FUND OBJECTIVE

The Real Income solution aims to provide investors with a level of income that is consistent with the associated risk of medium- to long-term investments. The preservation of capital is extremely important to ensure continued income security. The solution will use strategies that increase overall downside protection while at the same time seeking to share in upside returns. The solution may also be exposed to Retail Investment Hedge Funds, a multi-strategy alternative fund, and a smoothed bonus fund. Smoothed bonus funds declare monthly bonuses in a way that helps reduce short-term volatility. Investors in this solution have an investment horizon of five years or longer. The solution is not compliant with Regulation 28 of the Pension Funds Act, 1956.

MANAGER COMMENT

The year 2023 started with unpleasant economic effects - from the unending interest rate increases, inflation rate, a continuation of geopolitical tensions and the ongoing local energy crisis. These issues continued into April and have since caused uncertainty amongst investors across the world.

Global equity markets were in positive territory, with the MSCI World Index increasing 1.75% month-on-month (in US dollars) and 4.86% month-on-month (in rands) in April. The Dow Jones increased 2.57% with the FTSE 100 Index increasing at 3.35% month-on-month. Global Bonds increased 0.44% month-on-month and Global Property rose 1.93%. The MSCI Emerging Markets Index declined -1.11% in April, with the S&P 500 increasing 1.56%. The Gross Domestic Product (GDP) in the United States rose at a 1,1% annualised pace in Q1 2023.

While most of the large banks delivered reassuring earnings that settled investor fears, First Republic Bank was the latest mid-cap US regional bank to become a casualty of the mini banking crisis. It reported a 41% year-on-year drop in Q1 2023 deposits and a plan to cut 25% of its employees in order to pursue strategic options.

Oil started the month strongly, rallying on a surprise announcement of supply cuts by the Organisation of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) before reversing gains on the prospect of weakening demand from slowing economic activity. Industrial metals were generally weaker, with iron ore at -12% month-on-month, while gold gained 1.1% month-on-month. The US dollar was weaker against the euro and British pound but stronger against the Japanese yen, which was weighed down by uncertainty around the way forward for Japanese monetary policy.

The JSE had a strong month in April, with the FTSE/JSE Capped SWIX All Share Index increasing 3.38% month-on-month. This was amongst the best performing indices in the emerging market space. Around 35% of the JSE's April performance came from the gold miners, at 17% month-on-month, making this the best-performing industry on the JSE for the second consecutive month (41% month-on-month in March), despite an April gold price rally of only 1.1% month-on-month (in US dollar terms). Industrials increased 3.20%, with Resources at 4.18% month-on-month, Property at 5.36% month-on-month, Financials at 3.31% month-on-month, and Cash at 0.61% month-on-month. Naspers and Prosus weighed on the JSE's performance, delivering -1% month-on-month in aggregate, despite outperforming their largest investment, Tencent, at -8% month-on-month in rand terms. Food inflation peaked at 14,4% during April. This is the highest level since March 2009.

South African 10-year government bond yields drifted higher in April, ending the month at 11.4%, their highest level since late 2022, on news of President Cyril Ramaphosa possibly stepping down. This stems from the events surrounding the theft of foreign currency from his Phala Phala game farm, which rattled foreign investors. The drift higher in local bond yields came despite a gentle environment for global bond yields in April.
