MANAGER COMMENT

June arrived with surprises from an interest rate cutting perspective. The European Central Bank (ECB) became the second major central bank to cut rates after the Bank of Canada (BoC). The Swiss National Bank (SNB) cut rates for the second consecutive time in June while sentiment over monetary policy easing remains mixed among major economies. The Swiss bank now forecasts economic growth of around 1% in 2024 and around 1.5% in 2025. The US labour market posted job gains in June, despite the unemployment rate increasing slightly. Japan's core consumer price index (CPI) increased ahead of market expectations and the Bank of Japan (BoJ)'s 2% target. Locally, government spending exceeded R2 trillion. More positively for the local economy was that the JSE broke through the 81 000-point mark.

Global equities continued their surge in June, when the MSCI World Index ended the month up 2.03% in dollar terms. Mega-cap tech stocks' influence on global equity market returns remains significant, with the Magnificent 7 making a valuable contribution to the MSCI World's performance in June. Nvidia has since been the standout performer for the index, even amongst the Magnificent 7, delivering a quarter of global equity market returns in June. Emerging markets (EMs) also had a strong month with the MSCI EM Index gaining 4.01% month-on-month (m/m) in dollars. Global bonds and global property were positive, gaining 0.14% m/m and 0.51% m/m in dollars. The FTSE Index was negative for the month, ending at -1.15% in pounds, but the S&P 500 posted gains of 3.59% for the month in dollars. The Dow Jones ended the month up 1.23% in dollars, the EuroStoxx 50 was negative at -1.72% m/m, and the Nikkei was positive at 2.94% m/m.

South African equities were among the best-performing emerging markets in June as the FTSE/JSE All Share Index ended the month at 4.08%. Stocks geared to the domestic economy were the main beneficiaries of improving sentiment. The bond market was positive, with the FTSE/JSE All Bond Index gaining 5.24% m/m. Bonds of 1-3 years gained 1.87% m/m, bonds of 3-7 years gained 4.14% m/m, bonds of 7-12 years gained 5.91% m/m and bonds of above 12 years gained 6.80% m/m. Industrials and Property posted gains of 5.1% m/m and 5.95% m/m respectively. Financials was the outperformer for the month, posting gains of 14.51%, but Resources underperformed, ending the month negatively at -3.56%. The rand finished the month strongly at 3.11% against the US dollar, 4.44% against the euro, 3.85% against the pound and at 0.54% against the Japanese yen.
