MANAGER COMMENT

Inflation data in the US subsided and unemployment data also came in positively, prompting the US Federal Reserve (Fed) to cut interest rates by an unexpected interest rate cut. China's central bank unveiled measures to improve the country's economy through lowering borrowing costs and allow banks to increase their lending. Additionally, China is set to increase its retirement age from 1 January 2025. South Africa's inflation rate dropped to below the midpoint target in August, encouraging the South African Reserve Bank (SARB) to cut rates since pre-Covid.

Developed market (DM) equities continued their strong run with the MSCI World Index ending positively at 1.83% month-on-month (m/m), leaving the global equity benchmark up, with only two negative months in the past year. The US Fed was a key catalyst driving investor optimism in September. The Fed cited some early signs of weakness in the US labour market as the motivation for easing monetary conditions. Emerging markets benefited from an improved investor sentiment and the MSCI Emerging Markets (EM) Index was the best performer ending positively at 6.72% m/m. Global bonds and global property ended positively 1.70% m/m and 3.15% m/m respectively (in dollars). The FTSE Index was negative at -1.29% m/m in pounds, while the S&P 500 was in positive territory at 2.14% m/m in dollars. The Dow Jones ended the month positively at 1.96% m/m in dollars, the Euro Stoxx 50 was positive at 0.93% m/m, and the Nikkei was negative for the month at -1.30%, due to concerns over economic growth in Japan.

South African equities continued with their post-election rally into September with the FTSE/JSE All Share Index posting positive gains of 4.04% m/m in rand terms. Resources were positive for the month at 3.89% m/m, however, Industrials ended negatively at -0.04% m/m. Property was the best performer in the local market at 5.04% m/m and Financials was also positive at 2.46% m/m. Cash was also in positive territory for the month at 0.67%. The bond market was positive, as the FTSE/JSE All Bond Index gained 3.86% m/m in rands. Bonds of 1-3 years gained 1.11% m/m, bonds of 3-7 years gained 2.45% m/m, bonds of 7-12 years gained 4.09% m/m, and bonds of 12 years and above gained 5.37% m/m. The rand strengthened against the US dollar by 3.03% m/m, against the euro by 2.19% m/m, and against the pound by 0.95% m/m.
